Health League Push Pasteurization

The importance of milk in the human diet cannot be overlooked, according to Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada.

Milk is the world's finest all-round food, Dr. Bates said. "One quart contains all the calcium and riboflavin needed by a person in one day, half of the Vitamin A, half of the thiamin, more than half the protein requirement, and one-third of the needed calories. No other food is so complete."

He added, however, that milk, in its raw state, is a "Lekyll and Hyde." While it is a splendid all-round food it is at the same time, a cultural medium of disease germs. He remarked that Dr. John R. Fraser, while Dean of Medicine at McGill University, Montreal, had stated that "unsafe milk has been responsible in the past for more deaths and illness than all other foods grouped together."

Recent statistics, Dr. Bates said, show there were 26 officially reported milk-borne epidemics—39 cases or more each—in Canada in the last 25 years. These outbreaks alone caused more than 700 deaths.

By unsafe milk, Dr. Fraser meant

Tanner Trophy Successfully Defended

Last Monday evening in the Opera House, the "A" Teams of Magrath and Raymond battled over the Tanner Trophy, held by the Raymond High School.

Magrath immediately challenged Raymond in an attempt to regain the trophy but were downed by the Raymond boys, despite the fact their ace centre man, Tom Holmes, was away in Salt Lake.

Raymond holds the trophy, but it can still be challenged for up to the end of April.

The game was close all the way and hard fought, with the game ending 44-43 for the Comets.

The public is invited to attend this meeting and participate in the discussions.

COURTESY

By Edgar A. Guest

Not the "right of way" when driving But the simple way of right. And never once forgetting To be courteous and polite. A little bit of patience As behind the wheel you sit. And you'll never lose a fender. And a child you'll never hit.

Oh, the worst of phrases ringing All through motordom today Is that selfish bit of wording That is known as "right of way". It has filled the graves of many Who have sped some road along— Since Death never asks the question Is the driver right or wrong.

Just a little thought for others. Just remembering to be kind; Just the willingness in traffic To slow down and stay behind; Just the show of gracious manners Which all gentle folks display. And the accidents that happen Will be fewer day by day.

Just control that flash of temper When another sounds his horn; In the car may be a mother Soon to have her baby born. Be considerate in your driving And be courteous and kind. And you'll reach your dwelling safely And keep your peace of mind.

Judo Exhibition Well Attended

Approximately four hundred Raymond and district fans turned out a week ago Saturday to witness the magic of Judo as demonstrated by the expert Mr. Yoshio Katsuta and his assistant Mr. Yoshio Senda.

There were thirty boys and young men taking part in the warm up bouts which were a bit slow but very interesting.

In the elimination bouts for men over 16 years, Mr. H. Hsaka of Picture Butte put up a good scamp to win over Mr. Moriyama, also of Picture Butte.

The local Branch of the Canadian Legion wish to thank Mr. Katsuta and all members of the Judo Supporters Association for their contributions toward the Canadian Legion Building Fund. The net proceeds for the evening amounted to $185.10.

An event you cannot afford to miss is "Green Dolphin Street", which starts Monday for 3 days. Its coming soon! "Unconquered" with Gary Cooper.

TEA AND BAZAAR

The Women's Auxiliary of the United Church are holding a Tea and Bazaar in the Church on Saturday, April 17th, from 3 to 7 p.m. There will be a home cooking table apron and fancy work table and lunch will be served.

ALBERTA'S FUEL TAX

Motorists are making increased contributions to the provincial government treasury, according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

In fact, it appears that this is about the biggest revenue producing field even showing signs of displacing liquor profits, at the top of the list.

For the fiscal year ended March 31, last, it is estimated that net revenue from the gasoline or fuel oil tax reached approximately $7,200,000. In the nine months period ended December 31 last, this revenue amounted to $6,069,129.

The greatly increased revenue from this source is due to the gasoline tax having been increased from seven to nine cents per gallon. The government has given assurance that at least two cents per gallon would be earmarked for road surfacing of main highways.

Also there has been a marked gain in the volume of gasoline sold. The total for the nine months ended December last, was 112,269,429 gallons and it was believed that an additional 22,000,000 gallons were sold in the three months ended March 31 last.

51 PERSONS KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENTS

Motor accidents took 51 lives in this province last year, according to information received from the provincial secretary's department by the Alberta Motor Association. In the previous year the death toll was 56.

The number of deaths emphasizes the need of greater care being exercised by motorists, in the opinion of officials of the A.M.A.

Many of the fatal accidents were at level railway crossings, while others were highway crashes due to glare of lights or other causes.

Last year thousands of copies of a pamphlet dealing with safe driving and issued by the A.M.A. were distributed to license applicants by the provincial secretary's department. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1947, there were 481 convictions in Alberta for violations of the Criminal code and 3,614 for infringements of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act.

Recently, the R.C.M.P. announced that regulations as to glare headlights will be strictly enforced, in view of the increased number of accidents on provincial highways.

WHAT ABOUT THE FUTURE

The crime against the soil is a crime equal to any crime against humanity. Misuse of soil is reducing individuals to morons, communities to poverty, nations to decay and may as Malthus predicted years ago make the world a place in which population would outstrip food supply.

Recently there was reproduced in "The Rotarian," the picture of a morose boy leaning against a run-down shack. In the background, some pitiful attempts at beautification, in the distance an eroded hillside. A scene of futility and despair. All through ignorance of soil conservation.

The crime is none the less, because of its imperceptible creeping in, like a thief in the night. The crime is none the less, because no one person can be accused of it. Soil decay comes on like old age, and many think that life is too short to assume responsibility for something so subtle as soil decay. The other day a man said to me, when it was called to his attention that because of soil drifting his land was not yielding what it should—"Oh to hell with it, I won't need it much longer!"

We will have to assume individual responsibility or outside technical control—perhaps both. In England today no poor farmer is allowed to operate a farm. The practice of state control of some kind in respect to soil may well spread to other parts of the world.

We have had in this district the experience of unqualified direction of resources. It might be said that social acceptance is no guarantee of ability. It is very often just the reverse. The same mistakes are still going on—the direction of the technical aspects of our civil life by unqualified people. The result is that the town of Raymond and its environs presents the appearance of a ten, dump ground and an uncleaned hog pen—because of the ignorant handling of water and soil.

THEN WHAT???

We submit the following: first the hiring of a first class hard boiled engineer by the combined town council, municipal district and irrigation district; secondly, the passage of such orders by the aforesaid councils as will properly drain the town and district by providing drainage canals; eliminate seepage by doing away with ponds—even to the point of controlling those on private property where they are deemed a public menace; the substitution of wells for ponds as a source of stock water supply; ADEQUATE culverts in proper places in fills and road and the careful grading of bar-pits to these culverts. Administration of penalties to individuals who do not respect the need.

To the individual farmer on the land we submit: private drainage ditches connecting the co-operatively

HISTORY OF RAYMOND

By ELIZABETH KING

ANOTHER PROGRESSIVE AND INFLUENTIAL FAMILY OF PIONEERS

David F. Fawns, Patriarch, was a pioneer of Alberta and took an active interest and part in helping to establish the Mormon people in this part of the country. Two of his sons Arthur and William came in 1902, the rest of his family following in March of 1903. Jesse Knight owned four sections of land at what is now Craddock and on this land were 200 head of cattle. Upon leaving Canada "Uncle" Jesse placed the management of this property in the hands of David F. Fawns and sons. In March of 1906 Mr. Fawns was called on a long term mission to the Western States where he labored for 2 years. This was his second mission as he had filled a two year mission for his church before coming to Canada.

In later years Mr. Fawns sold his interests in the farm and bought a house and lot in town which is now controlled ones; intelligent control of irrigating water. "It is better to err on the dry side," says Dr. Wild. (see. Rotation of crops—for instance a straight beet program with only commercial fertilizer and an irrational urge to irrigate will result in grave damage to the soil—on the other hand, pasture, forage crops and manuring together with an intelligent use of the shovel and soil auger to determine the actual needs of water is better.

Are we going to safeguard the future.

MORE ABOUT SEED TREATMENT

Line Elevators Farm Service offers no apology for again emphasizing the importance and value of seed treatment for small grain crops, including flax, in 1945.

At the recent annual meeting of the Associate Committee on Plant Diseases (Dominion Department of Agriculture and National Research Council), plant pathologists and other crop specialists emphasized the importance of seed treatment in reducing the ever-increasing losses from smut and other seed-borne diseases of grain crops in Western Canada, and recommended that seed treatment be more widely and adequately practised by prairie farmers this year.

Seed Treatment Recommendations. A brief, general interpretation of the official seed treatment recommendations for 1945 is as follows: (1) All wheat seed should be treated with an appropriate fungicide, unless it has been examined by accepted methods and found to be sound, healthy, and free from surface-borne smut. It should be recognized, however, that, even in the absence of smut, seed treatment may be beneficial in protecting the seed against soil-borne diseases such as pre-emergence blight, seedling blight, and root rot. (2) All seed of oats, barley and flax should be treated with an appropriate fungicide. (3) In the treatment of seed grain farmers should follow precisely the instructions and directions of the chemical manufacturer.

Avoid Disease Losses. Farmers can avoid smut and other disease losses in 1945 by properly treating the seed they sow this spring. No farm practice will yield a greater return for the same investment in money and time than will seed treatment. For information on seed treatment consult your local Agricultural Representative, or write to the nearest Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology (Winnipeg, Saskatoon, or Edmonton), or to the Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg or Calgary.

occupied by Harold McKean and family.

David F. Fawns was a great lover of flowers and was especially interested in horticulture. The cultivation of flowers, shrubs and garden vegetables was his delightful hobby and any one passing "Grandpa" Fawns place was wont to stop and gaze in wonderment at the beauty of it all.

Mr. Fawns could always be seen out among his flowers or vegetables where he spared no time, money or energy in their culture and development. It was often said "you can't find a single weed among his flowers or vegetable garden". The writer can especially remember his beautiful Geraniums of all colors and kind with leaves as large as saucers and plants like small trees. In the days of the yearly Fairs in Raymond Magrath and Lethbridge, and other places Mr. Fawns was always a heavy first prize winner for his flowers and vegetables and especially his outstanding potatoes.

Later he specialized in fruit and grew many varieties of apples and small fruits very successfully.

Mrs. David F. Fawns was very active in the Relief Society in those early days. She was well known as an excellent cook and when ever a supper was put on in the church she was always there preparing appetizing dishes. Mrs. Fawns passed away in 1925 and Mr. Fawns in July 1932. They were the parents of seven children, Arthur, Elizabeth, William, Nell, Ervin, Charles and Retta.

Arthur Eugene Fawns came to Canada in March 1902 and settled in Raymond. On September 3rd 1902 he was sustained first counselor to F. W. Kirkham in the Stake, or eastern circuit of the Y.M.M.I.A. When the Taylor Stake was organized in 1903 he was chosen 2nd counselor to Bishop John F. Anderson. He was a carpenter by trade and helped build the big barn on the old Ray Knight place which burned down. He helped build the Ellison Mill in 1902 and the Sugar Factory in 1903.

He worked on the school board for several years and was active in the C.F.A. He was active as a teacher in the Sunday school and other organizations. So successful was he as a leader that in November 1904 he was sustained Bishop of the Stirling Ward. He took charge of his first meeting as bishop November 27, 1904 which was his 29th birthday. He was bishop of the Stirling ward for 25 years. He was released October 22, 1929. During his term of office the new L.D.S. church and amusement hall were built under his direction. He moved back to Raymond in 1940 where he passed away April 17, 1945.

At his funeral President T. George Wood paid this tribute to him: "He loved his people and his faith was a vital and living thing. I recall the time he was building the church and recreation hall, Bishop Fawns was dressed in overalls using hammer and saw with the rest of his ward workers. He was a willing worker and displayed fine leadership and we all should emulate his example."

When a young man, Mr. Fawns left his young wife and baby daughter and sailed for England where he remained for two years as an emissary for his church. Mrs. Arthur Fawns, like all Raymond Pioneer wives and mothers, stood by her husband in all his worthy endeavors.

She was very active in women's affairs both in the church and as First Vice President of the United Farm Women of Alberta. In 1906 she was sustained president of the Y.L.M.I.A., second counselor of the

by R. J. Deachman

Freight rates have gone up. It is regrettable but it can not be helped.

Freight rates are a part of every commodity, a substantial part. They represent a good deal more in final products than we are inclined to think. It is not alone the direct freight rate paid by the merchant on the goods which he sells you over the counter, there is an ocean freight rate as well, and when one goes up the other is likely to follow. Take the cost of agricultural implements, freight is a bigger item than appears on the surface. The different commodities which enter into the production of a blunder must be assembled in the factory before it is built and these items plus the cost of the freight in its shipment to the farmer constitutes a rather substantial item.

Freight rates, however, have not gone up in the last 25 years, except for certain minor adjustments made here and there. The farmer is getting more for his wheat than he formerly received, the worker receives higher wages. Profits, too, have risen but mainly because of increased volume of business rather than in increased profits per unit of production. We must face these facts. A war is a tremendously shocking and disturbing thing. It upsets all our calculations. We were hardly over the effect of World War I before WW II was upon us and we shall not be rid of the effects of World War II for a good many years even if we escape the fateful adventure of WW III.

I read an item in a book review the other day. It quoted Thos. Masaryk as saying this: "If this old world were threatened with some great cosmic disaster we would be united in the effort to avoid it." True, yet in the great cataclysm of war we concentrate upon the idea of winning it rather than avoiding it and there are times when this seems the only possible thing to be done, what a tragedy.

I am highly delighted at times to see the bright flashes which come from British papers. A few days ago the Economist in commenting on a speech by the Rt. Hon. A.V. Alexander, Minister of Air, in the House of Commons had this to say:

"His speech was disappointing; it gave little more than a paraphrase of the White Paper, and lacked the clarity of ideas and imaginative sweep that a good Minister of Defence should command. Mr. Alexander, in that position, is too much like one of the battleships he has recently scrapped: solid, slow, old fashioned, reliable but with too much weight above the water line for the Bismarck age. Indeed the most cogent charge against his exposition was that the new defence policy has too much of the old look."

Ah, that's a bright statement. Criticism as sharp in this country, might make our House of Commons brighter up. There is always too much of a tendency to drift into a debate which becomes chronically boring, the members get weary of the House and go to their own rooms merely for the sake of getting away from it.

All this does not mean that the Canadian House of Commons is always dreary, far from it. There are many happy moments when the

Lethbridge Experimental Station

WEEKLY LETTER

GROWING FLAX IN COMBINATION WITH WHEAT OR OTHER CEREALS

The question is frequently asked "Is it advisable to grow flax in combination with other grain rather than by itself?"

There are advantages and disadvantages to the system of combination cropping and these should be taken into account when the use of it is being considered. The advantages of combination cropping are:

1. It is easier to cut flax when it is grown in a mixture with other grain than when it is grown alone.

2. Flax in combination with other grain will fight weeds much better than when sown alone.

3. If the land is liable to crust wheat seedlings can push their way thru making it possible for the flax to emerge.

4. While no definite data are available there is reason to believe that flax grown in combination with wheat is damaged less by grass hoppers than when grown alone.

The chief disadvantages are:

1. Flax should be sown fairly shallow and under certain conditions it is necessary to seed the wheat and flax separately.

2. A crop of wheat and flax mixed is more difficult to market and it is practically essential to separate it.

3. The grade of flax is frequently lowered on account of broken wheat particles. Manufacturers of linseed oil object to these as they reduce the percentage of oil extracted.

Where there is not too much risk of producing a satisfactory crop of flax by seeding alone it is preferable to seed it that way. Under favorable conditions flax can be expected to yield approximately half as many bushels per acre as would be obtained from wheat.

A mixture of wheat and flax is likely to prove successful only in the parts of the province where a favorable moisture supply is usually received. Experiments have been conducted at the Lethbridge Experimental Station on irrigated land since a period of five years in seeding wheat and flax in different combinations. From results obtained a mixture of half a bushel of wheat and half a bushel of flax per acre appears to be a satisfactory combination.

When deciding to grow wheat and flax in combination the time of maturing of the varieties used is important. Marquis wheat and Bis on flax mature at the same time and can, therefore, be used together, but if an earlier variety such as Red Boats 222 or Thatcher is chosen then an earlier variety of flax, such as Red Wing, should also be chosen.

From observations made throughout the district as well as at the Experimental Station it appears more advisable to seed flax alone than in combination.

It is not advisable to seed flax in combination with oats or barley, as the rapid growth of these crops and the heavy leaf systems tend to smother the flax.

light breaks through and we catch a glimpse of sunshine through the gloom.

ther the flax and depress the yield. It also requires seeding the flax and oats or barley separately in order to get proper mixture throughout.

The harvesting of flax when grown alone is much less difficult to day than it was a number of years ago when it was the usual practice to cut the crop with a blunder and stook it.

Legion Notes

The local Legion mourns the loss of the former comrade C. T. Atwood whose funeral services were held on Saturday, March 27th, in the Second Ward Chapel. To pay last tribute to the deceased comrade, a representative body of the Legionnaires attended the funeral services and interment at the local cemetery.

At the Executive meeting of the Branch held on Sunday, April 4th a decision was confirmed to hold the regular monthly general meeting in the Hungarian Hall on a scheduled date of the second Wednesday of the month, April 14th, at 8:00 p.m.

An interesting program of entertainment which includes a movie film on timely topics, games, music and refreshments, was arranged.

All war veterans of Raymond and district regardless of their affiliation with the branch are cordially invited to meet together on this occasion. The time demands courtesy and readiness to render service.

The Legion Travelling Exhibit designed to keep the public informed on the progress with the campaign of public subscriptions in support of the Legion Memorial hall reappeared at this time on the corner show window of the Broadway Store. A new collection of the war trophies was added to the exhibit displaying besides a panoramic view of the Legion Hall, a list of the subscribers to the Legion Memorial Building fund.

The Legionnaires are jubilant of the continuing public support which has resulted in the thermometer rise to date above a mark of $100. Additional contributions are hereby acknowledged with gratitude.

ARE YOU GETTING THE TAX DEDUCTIONS YOU ARE ENTITLED TO?

The Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide shows you how!

How much can you deduct for depreciation on your tractor? Your automobile? A shed? What expenses can you deduct? There are 75 articles in common farm use plus a wide variety of deductible expenses for which depreciation can be charged—all listed in the new Farm Account Book. These legal deductions from your income are a big question at Income Tax Time and the answers to them and to dozens of other questions are in this new Farm Account Book.

A Record of Your Transactions and a Guide to Your Income Tax Return

WHAT IT DOES—Keeps a clean record, helps you budget—and shows you whether you have made or lost money on your operations. Shows you, too, what your best lines are and where you may be farming at a loss. Saves you hours of time from book keeping. First ten pages are for your receipts—from sales of crops, seeds, livestock, poultry, dairy products and all other produce. Then come twelve pages of all farm expenses—you are reminded of items you might otherwise forget. Establish a basic herd, apply for the three-year-average plan, calculate your depreciation item by item. These are money-savers for every farmer. They're all in the new Farm Account Book.

DEDUCTIONS—Every farmer is entitled to deductions and he is expected by the department to take full advantage of his rights. The Farm Account Book tells you about many items in easy question-and-answer form. For instance—"What can I claim as expenses for repairs?" The answer is "any expense to keep a machine or a building in working order can be claimed." Altogether there are answers to over 60 questions. No one is required to pay more than his fair share of tax. Comments from Letters on the New Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide: "A long awaited step for the benefit and progress of our Canadian farmers" . . . "Takes the kinks out of keeping farm records" . . . "Pleased to recommend this Account Book for farm people" . . . "Record keeping in its simplest form—a real help" . . . "Something we have been needing for a long time".

BEHIND THE BOOST

Behind the latest nationwide increase in rail-transported freight rates is the belief in informed sources along Parliament Hill that the cost of living for the average Canadian will not rise by any substantial degree, though here and there minor pricebooster certain commodities will undoubtedly appear in time boosts ranging according to the extent of the rail haul and the bulk of the articles. In fact, it is even forecast here that, as far as the cost-of-living is concerned, any extensive buyers' resistance against higher prices of many articles and seasonal declines in others, particularly some foodstuffs would quickly counteract such increases as involved in possible higher costs of rail-transported freight when these boosts are passed along to the consumer with freight rates generally estimated to account for about 3 percent of retail prices.

This means that, in the end the effects on the cost-of-living of this freight rate increase will not be enormous in face of the flaming headlines, judging from the viewpoint of an observer along Parliament Hill.

However, there is a strong hint in the judgement of the Board of Transport Commissioners here that should be known by the average Canadian since it states that this freight rate influence on the cost-of-living may not involve a permanent condition in regard to the higher rate or present new rate. "When costs of transportation are materially reduced the Board can of course direct a reduction in rates. In other words the structure is not by any means something that cannot be altered, wrote the commissioners, that is the majority of them, in the 163 page document of about 64,000 words

Obviously the Board reserves the right to rescind its order at any time if it should decide the railways in Canada are obtaining more than enough revenue to keep them operating efficiently with the decision stating that these companies will have to furnish the Board monthly statements of their operations revenue, operating expenses and net income.

Should the Board at any time be of the opinion that a greater amount of money is being paid to the rail way companies than is actually necessary to enable them to maintain a reasonable degree of operating efficiency the Board reserves the right at any time, on notice to readjust the rates to meet the conditions then existing "the judgment said, "On the other hand", it added "should the amount of the advance in rates authorized prove to be insufficient the railways can always apply again."

BORDER CHECK-UP

It is reported in this capital that immigration authorities in both the U.S. and Canada are now keeping a very close check-up on the movements of Communists or those suspected of being engaged in such activities in either of the two countries with a recent meeting here between such top officials said to have had a bearing on this, though there has been no official confirmation. Nevertheless, it is deemed to be highly significant that an announcement here of Canada's policy to exclude U.S. Union officers suspected of being communists followed closely a meeting here of American and Canadian immigration officials.

JUST ANOTHER RUMOR

In recent days, a rumor has been circulated widely that since the government had some close shaves in voting in the House of Commons lately, a general election may be called in 1948, probably in the fall. Whether any such appeal to the people of Canada will or will not occur cannot be reported but it can be reported that its cause will most certainly not be based on the close shaves in voting. It is quite true that vote margins have been narrow sensationally narrow, prior to the Easter recess. However, experienced observers know that the House of Commons was half-empty on these occasions since many members had left for the holidays and still the Government forces managed to win by comfortable majorities over the combined opposing forces.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

The "good neighbor" talks between Prime Minister King and President Truman are becoming more and more like those which used to take place between the head of the Canadian Government and the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, leading on each occasion to some momentous or all important decisions. Consequently the latest visit between Mr. King and the President both in Washington and Williamsburg, Va., is presumed here to be of more than passing interest, especially in view of current world conditions and the threat to peace, as well as Canada's dollar position.

SUCCESS STORIES

According to Eddie Dunlop, himself blinded in action overseas and now Director of the Casualty Rehabilitation Branch for the Veterans Department here, two out of three of the 29,534 seriously disabled veterans of World War 2 were now re-established in employment, with 19,607 at work and 7,980 still receiving treatment, training or other services. He disclosed that 1947 had been the busiest year yet and added "an diminution of the intensity of these services may be expected" for the coming months. An analysis showed that even in the case of men getting between 75 and 100 percent pension plus helplessness allowance, more than half are now at work, with 55,39 percent of 269 men having taken jobs, most of them paraplegics.

DOMESTIC RENTAL CONTROLS

It is understood here that the Minister of Finance, Hon. Douglas Abbott, with his officials are going to give a good deal of attention to questions of domestic rental controls since it is known along Parliament Hill that the Canadian Government would like to get rid of the headache of domestic rental control as soon as possible. There is decided flavor here in giving a "substantial advance notice" to the public of any action in this respect, it is stated in informed quarters.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL

We have placed too much emphasis on the material instead of the moral and spiritual and there is a lack of co-operative desire to make the world a better place for all" said here A.K. Mosher, President, Canadian Congress of Labor, who has been in important executive positions in Canadian labor movements for 40 years.

"The reserve forces are a major part of Canada's defence forces", declared Hon. Brooke Claxton, Defence Minister, in an address here. "In the event of an emergency the reserves would again constitute the framework for the organization of larger active forces."

"I do not think any move for war will be taken at an early time," stated Hon. J. H. van Roffen, Ambassador for the Netherlands to Canada, adding quickly "on one condition that we remain strong and prepared."

"There is a definite need for mental clinics in addition to mental hospitals and the need is for one clinic for each 100,000 of population in Canada," said Dr. T. G. Stoddill, Chief of the Mental Health Division, Department of National Health and Welfare, in this capital.

"If Canadians are as generous as they were last year, we will be short again", commented Postmaster General Bertrand on an underestimation by his department of the number of parcels sent by Canadians to the United Kingdom last year.

"There is a missionary field in this country for our churches that they never touch", said Judge Allan J. Fraser in an address here, stressing that the reason over 75 percent of our prison population are repeat offenders is that Canadians are too intolerant to give those people a fair chance to reestablish themselves.

WEEKLY WIND-UP

It is understood along parliament Hill that there is a strong view that Canada's exchange position might be helped but probably would not be "tured" if farmers were allowed to export their products to the United States now rather than to the United Kingdom.

Italians in Canada are being urged by church leaders of their Roman Catholic faith to write air-mail letters to their relatives and friends in Italy that the Canadian and American democracies are superior to Communism so that they may warn them not to be led astray by Communist propaganda.

It is believed that the hatter shortage in Eastern Canada may disappear within two or three weeks, though the situation is acute at the moment.

Ship, plane and trap collisions will become a thing of the past when radar enters into civilian life, Dr. R. W. Hoyce, director of the National Research Council told an audience in this capital.

Though the CIBC has recommended approval of plans to establish a French language broadcasting station at Edmonton, yet it is pointed out here that the Transport Department must make the final decision in such matters.

Sales of radios skyrocketed in Canada during the past year, reaching $1,160,000 in September, 1947 but these have been receding steadily so that by February 1948, they had dropped to $786,000, says an official report here.

More and more talk is being heard backstage in this capital about the need for establishing a parliamentary committee to study the National Film Board's operations in the same way as the CBC

TRANSPLANTING HINTS
There will be little difficulty in transplanting if one realizes that the important thing is to keep roots from being exposed to the air. Because this will weaken, if not kill the plant, professional nurserymen are careful to wrap all roots in moss fibre, or keep some of the original soil around them, and they also keep them moist.

In every garden there is a lot of transplanting work to do. Tomatoes, cabbage, petunias, marigolds and annual flower and vegetable plants will have to be taken from greenhouses and set out in the garden.
There will be nursery stock, like fruit and ornamental trees, rose bushes, shrubs etc., to be moved or bought and planted. Often, too, in thinning certain flowers or vegetable plants planted from seed in the open, it is possible to salvage the plants taken out.

If there is any secret about this business of transplanting it is to protect the roots from air and sun keep them moist before, during and after the transplanting and make sure seed soil is pressed down firmly.
Moistening before removal will allow a bit of earth to come with the roots and will prevent damage to the tiny hair-like feeding roots, which are essential if the plant is to survive. Plenty of water during the transplanting (and this applies to
